Internet Marketing and Management Group, LLC (IMMG) of Coral Springs, Florida, Launches New Website

Internet Marketing and Management Group, LLC (IMMG) of Coral Springs, Florida, which specializes in developing websites for its clients, recently launched its redesigned website, www.WebIMMG.com.

The website details what IMMG offers to its clients, not simply listing services, but rather stressing its philosophy of integrated marketing and management. Potential clients can view the processes involved in creating business solutions through IMMG's suite of integrated services. Visitors can browse through sample websites, brochures, newsletters and logo designs and just as importantly experience some of the systems and technology used for their integrated deployment. IMMG uses many of these technologies on its website, such as featuring audio testimonials from clients rather than traditional plain text.

Site visitors will also be able to see that IMMG's use of advanced technology for its clients is not limited to websites, but extend into such areas as emails, information distribution and collection, and customer relations. The website demonstrates how profit can be increased through a skillful blend of marketing, public relations and management services.

"We hope that when clients come to the website they will experience the possibilities of how their company or organization can benefit through technology and the management of integrated services. It's not only a great website that most companies need, but also a demonstration of the type of marketing that brings websites to life. From great SEO that gets you on top of Google searches, to excellent thank-you letters, everything a company should be doing is on display on our website," says Wayne Marnell, COO of IMMG.
